ENTRANCE PROCESSION | In a Time of Pain
Francis Patrick O’Brien

1. In a time of pain when confusion reigns, will you hear our burning cry?
2. When our leaders fail, when the dark prevails, be the path that will guide our way.
3. When the weakest ones have no place to run from the terror that haunts their days.
4. Teach us what is just and in whom to trust; by your wisdom we will abide. May the ones with pow’r, as the truth’s revealed, when our anguish just won’t die: may we strive to learn to reveal the light of day.
make their night-mares cease? Who will drive their dark away?
in this crucial hour, seek the Spirit as their guide.

Come save us as you saved your Son, who was faithful to the end. God of justice reign; through our sin and child in pain. May your healing balm bring a peace and Come save us as you saved your Son; in your truth we will be set free. Teach us how to deal with the hurt we come save us as you saved your Son, who embraced each dead-ly toll. May we rise at last from our shad-owed
CALL TO WORSHIP

* In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.

All: Amen.

* The Lord be with you.

All: And with your spirit.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING | Isaiah 43: 16-21

RESPONSORIAL PSALM | Psalm 126: The Lord Has Done Great Things for Us

Tony Alonso

When the Lord brought back the exiles of Zion, we thought we were dreaming. Then was our mouth filled with laughter; on our tongues, songs of joy. ❯

Then they said among the nations, “What great deeds the Lord worked for them!” What great deeds the Lord worked for us! Indeed, we were glad. ❯

Bring back our exiles, O Lord, as streams in the Negeb. Those who are sowing in tears will sing when they reap. ❯

They go out, they go out, full of tears, bearing seed for the sowing; they come back, they come back with a song, bearing their sheaves. ❯
SECOND READING | Philippians 3: 8-14

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION | Ruah Mass

GOSPEL | John 8: 1-11

HOMILY

NICENE CREED

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.
I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.
For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.
I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.
I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRESENTATION OF THE GIFTS | These Alone are Enough

Dan Schutte

1. Take my heart, O Lord, take my hopes and dreams.
2. Take my thoughts, O Lord, and my memory.
3. I surrender, Lord, all I have and hold.
4. When the darkness falls on my final days,

Take my mind with all its plans and schemes.
Take my tears, my joys, my liberty.
I return to you your gifts untold.
take the very breath that sang your praise.

Give me nothing more than your love and grace.

These alone, O God, are enough for me.

Eucharistic Prayer

※ The Lord be with you.
All: And with your spirit.
※ Lift up your hearts.
All: We lift them up to the Lord.
※ Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
All: It is right and just.
HOLY, HOLY | Missa Pacem
L. Randolph Babin

Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of hosts. Heav'n and earth are full of your glory.
Hosanna in the highest. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is he who comes in the name, who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest. Hosanna in the highest.

MEMORIAL ACCLAMATION | Missa Pacem
L. Randolph Babin

When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup, we proclaim your Death, O Lord, until you come again.

GREAT AMEN | Missa Pacem
L. Randolph Babin

Amen, amen, amen. Amen, amen, amen.
THE LORD’S PRAYER

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name; thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil.

For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are yours now and forever. Amen.

LAMB OF GOD | Missa Pacem

Spiritual Communion

It is a long-held Catholic belief that when circumstances prevent one from receiving Holy Communion, it is possible to make an “Act of Spiritual Communion.” During this time when we are not able to celebrate the Eucharist together in person, Pope Francis invites Catholics to say this prayer as a source of grace. We can be assured that when we express our desire to receive Jesus in the Eucharist, God will be with us spiritually in a special way. Here is an Act of Spiritual Communion that we encourage you to pray as you participate in our live-streamed liturgies:
ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

Loving Jesus,
I believe that you
are present in the Most Holy Sacrament of the Eucharist.
I love you above all things,
and I desire to receive you into my soul.
Since I cannot at this moment receive you sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.
I embrace you as if you were already there and unite myself wholly to you.
Never permit me to be separated from you.
Amen.

COMMUNION | Take and Eat

Refrain

Take and eat; take and eat: this is my body given up for you. Take and drink; take and drink:
this is my blood given up for you.

Verses

1. I am the Word that spoke and light was made;
2. I am the way that leads the exile home;
3. I am the Lamb that takes away your sin;
4. I am the corner stone that God has laid;
5. I am the light that came into the world;
6. I am the first and last, the Living One;

I am the seed that died to be born;
I am the truth that sets the captive free;
I am the gate that guards you night and day;
A chosen stone and precious in his eyes;
I am the light that darkness cannot hide;
I am the Lord who died that you might live;
I heard the voice of Jesus say: “Come unto me and rest;
Lay down, O weary one, lay down Your head upon my breast.”
I came to Jesus as I was, So weary, worn, and sad;
I found in him a resting place, and he has made me glad.

I heard the voice of Jesus say: “Behold I freely give
The living water; thirsty one, Stoop down, and drink, and live.”
I came to Jesus and I drank Of that lifegiving stream;
My thirst was quenched, my soul revived, And now I live in him.

I heard the voice of Jesus say: “I am this dark world’s light;
Look unto me, your morn shall rise, And all your day be bright.”
I looked to Jesus and I found in him my star, my sun;
And in that light of life I’ll walk Till travelling days are done.

CONCLUDING RITES

* The Lord be with you.

All: And with your spirit.

* May almighty God bless you, the Father, (*) and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

All: Amen.

* Go forth, the Mass is ended.

All: Thanks be to God.

Welcome!

Welcome to Saint Cecilia Parish, a Roman Catholic community that gathers day by day, week by week, to know and make known the grace of God. By means of this abundant grace, we enjoy a diverse and close-knit parish family—young, old, rich, poor, of various ethnic origins and differing backgrounds. From our extraordinary music program to a growing children's faith formation program; from the various liturgical ministries to the many opportunities for social outreach that the parish provides, Saint Cecilia is a vibrant community of faith, centered on prayer and worship that tries to keep the Gospel close to heart and to live by Jesus’ teachings.

Saint Cecilia Parish was established in 1888. At that time the Back Bay section of Boston along Commonwealth Avenue and Beacon Street was the residential section of the Yankee aristocracy. The maids (“Irish working out girls”) and coachmen who served these residents had long requested a church of their own. When Archbishop Williams granted their request and carved the parish from the territory of the Cathedral, they built a magnificent church out of their meager earnings. Our church building resides on the ancestral homeland of the Pawtucket and Massachusett tribal nations.

The church was dedicated on April 22, 1894. Its architecture is Romanesque, XII Century Norman. The main altar, notable for its massive simplicity, was carved from a single block of white Carrara marble. The painting in the center reredos is a reproduction of da Vinci’s The Last Supper, and the dome above is an array of 24K gold rosettes.

For the sixtieth anniversary celebration in 1954, a massive renovation project was undertaken. During this renovation, a statue of Pope Saint Pius X (canonized that same year) was imported from Italy and placed on the right side of the sanctuary. Above the statue are paintings from Pius’ life. On the left side is a statue of Saint Patrick, principal patron of the Archdiocese of Boston, and above it are three scenes from his life.

Fourteen circular and sixteen square panels adorn the nave and arches of the church. The square panels are decorated with the symbols of Our Lady taken from the Litany of Loreto and the circular ones with symbols taken from the lives of the apostles. The great window of the Assumption—framed by the two oak cases of the organ—was installed in 1954 (the Marian Year) in spaces originally designed for windows but not until then used.

The original organ of 24 stops was built in 1902 by the Hutchings-Votey Organ Company, Opus 1465, and was rebuilt in 1954 with 32 stops. In 1998, Timothy Smith and Theodore Gilbert began a massive reconstruction of the organ. The current Smith & Gilbert Organ of 4 manuals, 54 ranks, and 3,084 pipes was dedicated on the Feast of Saint Cecilia, November 22, 1999.

Today we are experiencing something of an awakening within these old walls. Our numbers are increasing by 350 new households each year, and we continue to grow in our commitment to issues of peace, justice, and service to our neighbors, both near and far.

We’ve been right here on Belvidere Street, in the same building for over 125 years, but that does not mean that life here is stale, stagnant, or even predictable. We are proud to be entrusted with the legacy of Saint Cecilia Parish, where everything is the same, yet always changing; where we honor tradition while embracing the future; where God’s love makes all things new.
We are actively recruiting people to join our Greeters & Coffee Hospitality Ministries.

Parish Greeters bring to life the part of our Parish Vision that states, "God’s grace lives in the warm smiles of those who greet all parishioners and guests.” And our Coffee Hospitality volunteers help ensure, in the words of our Vision, that ”no one feels on the fringes.”

If this sounds appealing and you think you might like to help either occasionally or on a more regular basis, please send an email to Lisa Pickering (lpickering@stceciliaboston.org).

Happy Anniversary!
This week we celebrate the baptismal anniversary of Linden Jenkins, baptized on April 4. May the Lord continue to bless Linden with the grace to live out their baptismal call. Happy Feast Day!

Thank You!
We had several special collections recently which you responded to generously. $4,216 was raised in support of the Church around the world, $3,063 our Ash Wednesday collection to benefit Catholic Charities of Boston, and $49,238 was raised for CRS’ work in Ukraine. These numbers do not reflect the gifts made directly to the organizations themselves. WOW! On behalf of all these worthy organizations, thank you!

Easter Flowers
You can remember your loved ones by donating toward our Easter flowers. Please fill out the form by clicking here: https://forms.gle/Konxjetn82UG442y6. The names of those remembered will be printed in the Easter bulletin. Palm Sunday (April 10) will be the last opportunity to donate toward the Easter flowers.

The Third Scrutiny & Lectionary Note
Today at the eleven-thirty liturgy we celebrate the third scrutiny of our Elect. We pray that the Lord who raised Lazarus from the dead will liberate these four men and women from the areas of death and darkness in their lives as they continue to prepare to receive the life-giving sacraments of Easter.

Wednesday Evening Mass During Lent
On all the Wednesday evenings of Lent we will celebrate Mass at 6:00. Following Mass, confessions will be heard until 8:00 for anyone who wishes to celebrate the sacrament.

Easter Vigil Reception
On April 16, following our celebration of the Great Vigil of Easter, we will have a reception in the Parish Hall in honor of our twelve newly initiated Elect and Candidates for Full Communion. There will be light refreshments, and the reception will begin around 11:15 p.m. lasting for an hour. If you would like to help set up or break down, please email Lisa at lpickering@stceciliaboston.org. Thanks in advance!

Child Abuse Prevention Month
With the goal of highlighting the importance of protecting minors from abuse, every April, child and youth serving organizations, including Catholic dioceses, parishes, and schools across the United States, participate in National Child Abuse Prevention Month. Cardinal Seán has designated this weekend as a time to pray for continued healing of those who have been abused, to pray for all those impacted by abuse, to offer prayers of thanks for the work of all those who focus on child safety, and to recommit to ongoing practices to keep all children free from abuse. We pray that God may grant those affected by abuse in any way the courage to tell their story and seek healing. We pray also that bishops and other church leaders will promote justice and healing for victims and that those who commit these crimes will be held accountable.

A BEAUTIFUL DAY IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD
SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 6:00 P.M.

Chosen by Time magazine as one of 2019’s ten best films, A Beautiful Day in the Neighborhood is based on the true story of the real-life friendship between Fred Rogers and journalist Tom Junod. After a jaded magazine writer is given an assignment to profile Fred Rogers (brilliantly portrayed by Tom Hanks), he overcomes his skepticism as he learns about kindness, love, and forgiveness from America’s most beloved neighbor. Freelance film critic and journalist Tom Beasley said, “It’s a simply lovely story about the importance of optimism, the power of niceness, and the virtue of knowing how to control and channel emotions into something useful.”

The film will be shown in Fellowship Hall following the 5:00 Mass on Saturday (approximately 6:00 p.m.).

LOOKING FOR SOMEONE WITH LEGAL/PARALEGAL EXPERIENCE

St. Cecilia House, a 123-unit housing development serving people ages 62 and over and Robert McBride House, a residence with 17 apartments for disabled individuals and their families, are not-for-profit housing in the Fenway neighborhood, developed by the Planning Office for Urban Affairs of the Archdiocese of Boston and sponsored by Saint Cecilia Parish. These properties are funded through a capital grant from HUD with ongoing rental assistance for residents and are guided by strategic oversight and support from a board of directors on which several parishioners serve alongside individuals from the local community.

The board of directors of St. Cecilia House and Robert McBride House is looking for a volunteer with legal or paralegal experience to assist with a small corporate-related project. This project will likely take no more than eight to ten hours and will involve some in-person work with current board members. If you think this might be a good fit and would like to learn more about how you can help, please contact Molly Diggins (mdiggins@monumentgroup.com) or Austin McGovern (austinnmcgovern2@gmail.com).

Week 5: The Dignity of Work and Rights of Workers

Work should be a way to participate in the continuation of the work of God’s creation. The economy should work to serve people, to provide them with fair compensation, productive work, private property, economic power, and organization of unions.

From Scripture:

Come now, you right people, weep and wail for the miseries that are coming to you. Your riches have rotted, and your clothes are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver have rusted, and their rust will be evidence against you, and it will eat your flesh like fire. You have laid up treasure for the last days. Listen! The wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept by fraud, cry out, and the cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. - James 5:1-4

Explore:

- Watch: Fr. Greg Boyle, SJ (Founder of Homeboy Industries) 2012 TedxTalk on Kinship and Compassion—youtu.be/ipR0kWe1Fkc
- Watch: Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on Labor, Wealth and Justice—youtu.be/2ec7rtxytHs
- Learn: Interfaith Worker Justice iwj.org/ and Jobs with Justice massjwj.net
- Read: On Care for Our Common Home by Pope Francis, [Laudato Si’], nos. 127-28

Reflect:

- Does my own work align with this principle?
- Do I provide this kind of dignity to those I hire or manage?
- How can I support others in their own labor struggles?
- If you’d like to discuss this fifth principle, please join us Wednesday April 6, 6:00-7:00 p.m. EDT via Zoom. Register at bit.ly/BookClubLent22.

Take Action:

- Sign up with Fr. Peter’s “A Faith That Does Justice” and volunteer.
- Contact your State Representatives and advocate for the “Work and Family Mobility Act” (HD. 448 SD. 237) which would enable all qualified state residents to apply for a standard Massachusetts driver’s license or identification card, regardless of immigrant status.
- Support the Boston Teachers Union against State takeover by joining their letter campaign.

Dear Reverend Unni,

On behalf of the six Habitat for Humanity Greater Boston partner families that received the many gifts your kind parishioners purchased for the Housewarming Gift Drive last fall, we would like to extend our sincerest gratitude to you and your parish community. This was the first time Habitat Greater Boston and St. Cecilia Parish partnered together, and it was more successful than we could have ever hoped for or imagined.

Your parishioners’ compassion and generosity towards families that they have never met is truly moving and inspiring! Each family was overwhelmed with joy when the gifts including small appliances and household items along with games and books were delivered, and they are happy to use the items in their new homes. The smiles (and a few happy tears) that your parish community brought to the families, especially the children, were absolutely priceless!

We at Habitat Greater Boston look forward to possible future volunteer opportunities for adults and families with children at our newest build site in Malden, MA.

Habitat Greater Boston wishes you and all Saint Cecilia Parish members a safe, healthy, and happy Lenten and Easter season.

With deep gratitude,

James Kostaras, AIA

The expression "new normal" has increasingly felt like a meaningless phrase. With each new shift in the experience of the novel coronavirus pandemic, what we thought we knew had to be relearned and what served as guidance or best practices often had to be re-scripted. Normalcy suggests consistency and predictability, neither of which has been experienced since March 2020.

The result has been widespread fatigue and impatience, which might explain the rise in public outbursts and misbehavior as people attempt to reintegrate into public life.

And yet, things are beginning to feel different this time as the surge of infections caused by the Omicron variant of the virus peaked and has steadily and rapidly declined across the United States. Meanwhile, some parts of Asia are now dealing with their own Omicron outbreaks and pockets of rising cases in Europe continue to remind the world that this disease is not just going to disappear.

Nevertheless, public health officials tell us that we may be moving closer to an endemic phase of this viral nightmare, which offers the promise that COVID-19 may no longer dominate our lives in the way that it has.

On a personal level, I have noticed how things have been shifting, sometimes rapidly. Before the start of the pandemic I would often travel several times a month to lecture or lead workshops and retreats. During the first year of the pandemic I never stepped foot on an airplane, bus or subway car. For the first three months of the pandemic, I remained within a 5-mile radius of my friary, reaching that distance away only when I went running by myself.

Like millions of other people who were not categorized as frontline or essential workers, I became unwittingly cloistered, working and socializing remotely from home through Zoom and other technologies. I taught all my courses online, visited with family over Zoom, participated in "virtual happy hours" with friends and delivered dozens of lectures or workshops from the same chair in front of my computer.

Last spring, after being fully vaccinated, I boarded a plane for the first time in a year to visit my family in New York. I felt a sense of hope that perhaps the light at the end of the tunnel was in sight. But then a year of rising anti-vaccination sentiment, Delta and then Omicron waves of infections and roller-coaster-like mask mandate instructions and in-person gathering guidelines dimmed the brightness of what we had hoped could be a "new normal."

But here we are today, and something does feel different. While I am still occasionally meeting or presenting virtually, most speaking engagements are taking place in person and with minimal or no social distancing in venues. Masking in some settings is still common, but decreasingly consistent. Larger gatherings of people are more commonplace.

For example, I just returned home from the Los Angeles Religious Education Congress, which ordinarily is one of the largest Catholic gatherings in the United States with tens of thousands of participants assembled annually at the Anaheim Convention Center. While in-person attendance this year was only several thousand, which was noticeably lighter than usual, it was a joy to be with so many people in the convention rooms and exhibit hall to pray, learn and socialize. Everyone I spoke with was excited to be back and looked forward to next year's gathering, hoping that it would return to its typical size as the pandemic continued to ease up.

Experiences in recent weeks that in many ways resembled those of pre-pandemic times have me thinking about what it means to live in another "new normal," one that I pray may usher in a safer and less-stressful time for all. Adjusting to this return of regular in-person activities and more-frequent travel has given me reason to step back and reflect on what is needed in order to cope better with the world as it changes. Here are some of the things I have been thinking about.

Patience. While Thomas Aquinas argues that the virtue of patience is not technically the "greatest" of the virtues, in the age of pandemic — and this liminal period of pandemic-toward-endemic — patience may be the most important virtue. People are tired, worn down, frightened and approaching reentry into social and public life with understandable trepidation. The hardship and suffering that this pandemic has wrought does not justifiably treating other people with disrespect, but the circumstances can help explain why so many people are less tolerant and exercise less restraint on personal bad behavior.

We need to consciously remember to be patient with others and ourselves as we continue to adjust to changing circumstances. As a frequent traveler before the pandemic, I believe I cultivated a practice of forbearance and patience that served me well in the course of the many small and large inconveniences and frustrations that come with being so itinerant. However, as I've eased back into traveling more often again, I have noticed ways that I feel more easily irritable and annoyed. What was once second nature is now a virtue in need of practice and cultivation.

Humility. I need to recognize that this pandemic has and continues to exert a noticeable toll on me as it does on so many others. It is OK to do less, to take one's time, to recognize that just as it was not easy to stop the whole world in March 2020, it is not easy to restart it now. Working on humility means owning my limitations and acknowledging the impacts of the last two years of challenge, loss and suffering, while also accepting that there are long-term consequences that will manifest in various ways.

Empathy. In many ways, this characteristic flows from both patience and humility. I believe that a lot of the disrespectful behavior we have been witnessing in public arises in part from a lack of empathy. Everyone is dealing with these challenging times differently. We have to remember that we may not know others' burdens, sorrows or suffering, and so we should treat everybody with love and understanding. Something as simple as remembering that others are also going through hardships can make a major difference.

Trust. This pandemic has made even the most trusting person suspicious of others, if only as potential vectors of COVID-19. This skepticism has combined with the conspiracy theories and nonsense of the disinformation age, resulting in widespread distrust of others in general and public authorities in particular. But in order for us to move toward a better way of living and being in the world, we need to build back our sense of trust.

Flexibility. If there's one thing that the pandemic has taught me, it is that I need to be more flexible. The luxury of sure plans and inflexible schedules is a thing of the past (if they ever existed). One thing that appears over again in the gospels is Jesus's ability to respond to whatever and whoever is before him with grace and hospitality, including during unpredictably stressful times such as when thousands needed to be fed (Matt 14:13-21, Lk 9:12-17). How are we adjusting to changing circumstances?

These virtues and characteristics are not a panacea for all that we continue to face during these challenging times, but they may help us to navigate the uncertain road ahead in a manner reflecting our shared Christian vocation.

~Franciscan Fr. Daniel P. Horan is the director of the Center for Spirituality and professor of philosophy, religious studies and theology at Saint Mary's College in Notre Dame, Indiana.

The full text of the policy is also available in the narthex and Parish Office, as well as on our website.
